RICHARD POOLE ([REDACTED]) TO GREG JONES ([REDACTED])

JONES: GREG JONES
POOLE: RICHARD POOLE

Extract 3 : 0:01:58 – 0:03:35

POOLE: Yeah well there's an argument Jonesy that you and I and a couple of others should put our stuff together and just clean it up ourselves because you know.

JONES: Why don't we?

POOLE: Well –

JONES: I think because one way or the other we're gonna end up in a fucking big picture here.

POOLE: Well that - that's - I think - I think the answer to that is it just needs a bit of thought but we'll - like given - given the phone calls and stuff I haven't had time to sit down and have ten minutes to myself.

JONES: Sure, no, and I just started thinking about it. I actually had a bit of time to think last night and I - I thought oh if we did all that and put it in the right place, I mean they have the structure to put all that in the right place, we could actually say no well that was it -

[SOUND LIKE HELICOPTER FLYING OVER]

POOLE: Yeah (UNDECIPHERABLE).

JONES: - and then turn it around - what is it - is a debt - is it debt position, it's accruing interest, um, you know I think there's a lot of - a lot of sense in it so we could take - we could sort of sort it early, fix it, clean it up and move it on and It'll never be asked any which way.

POOLE: Yeah, yeah I think that's probably got some merit. So I think definitely -

JONES: Yeah.

POOLE: - we need to spend some time on - on working that one through.

JONES: Alright well just assume that I'm just a free moving spirit in this and just, um, you do what you think you put together and then we'll have a look at it and -

POOLE: I've made some wild assumptions but we want money fast (LAUGHS) and we don't give a fuck how we get there (LAUGHS).

JONES: Yeah that's -

POOLE: That's the summary position.

JONES: John Maynard Keynes had a definition of that (LAUGHS).

POOLE: Yeah anyway um -

JONES: Yeah.
